UNKNOWN SUBJECTS;
$27,000,000 IN HUMANITARIAN AID TO THE CONTRAS - NICARAGUA;
FRAUD AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT-DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Investigation in captioned matter was predicated upon the receipt of a June 19, 1986, letter from MICHAEL D. BARNES, Chairman, Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere Affairs, Committee on Foreign Affairs, Congress of the United States, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., to the Honorable EDWIN MEESE III, Attorney General, Department of Justice, Washington, D.C.

In summary, Congressman BARNES'S letter indicated that a preliminary investigation of bank records into which had been deposited portions of the above captioned funds suggested a strong possibility that criminal statutes had been violated, particularly those prohibiting the making of fraudulent claims against the United States Government. In view of that possibility, Congressman BARNES requested the Department of Justice initiate a criminal investigation into this matter.

The Alexandria, Virginia, Division of the FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION subsequently contacted representatives of the General Accounting Office, the Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere Affairs, the Department of State, and the Criminal Division, Fraud Section, United States Department of Justice. A summary of the information obtained to date is as follows:

RE: UNKNOWN SUBJECTS;
$27,000,000 IN HUMANITARIAN AID TO THE CONTRAS - NICARAGUA

On July 16, 1986, General Accounting Office (GAO) officials advised that on October 15, 1985, Congressman BARNES requested their office conduct a review of the disbursement of captioned funds by the Department of State. A separate organization within the Department of State, known as the Nicaragua Humanitarian Assistance Office (NHAO), was established specifically to administer the Contra aid program and that office is located at the Department of State Annex 6, 1701 Fort Myer Drive, Room 228, Arlington, Virginia.

An organization known as the United Nicaragua Opposition (UNO) was also established to represent the various resistance forces throughout Nicaragua. UNO is headed by three individuals: ADOLFO CALERO and ARTURO CRUZ, who are believed to be residents of Miami, Florida, and ALFONSO ROBELO, who is believed to be a resident of [redacted] [redacted] is UNO'S representative in [redacted]

b6
b7C

UNO'S responsibility is to purchase the goods needed for the Contras, submit the invoices and receipts to NHAO and to arrange for delivery to the Contra forces.

NHAO reviews the paperwork submitted by UNO to verify that the items being purchased fall within the guidelines of humanitarian aid and then prepares a voucher for submission to the Department of Treasury. The Department of Treasury then wire-transfers funds in payment of these vouchers to various bank accounts that have been established in Miami by brokers for the suppliers allegedly providing the goods purchased by UNO.

GAO officials advised that, to date, approximately $26 million of the $27 million authorized has been disbursed by NHAO and of that $26 million, approximately $12 million was for items purchased in the United States and approximately $14 million was for items purchased on the local economy in Nicaragua. GAO officials advised that NHAO exercises considerable control over the disbursement of funds for purchases made in the United States and GAO is not questioning the validity of those purchases. It is a much different story, however, for the purchases made in the Nicaraguan region. GAO advised that NHAO, from its offices in Virginia, cannot assess the validity of the regional receipts, is unable to check out many suppliers, has difficulty establishing reasonableness of prices, and cannot verify actual delivery or receipt of items. GAO officials also advised that there is no audit trail showing payments from the brokers' bank accounts in Miami to the various suppliers and there is only partial documentation of shipments from the suppliers to the resistance forces.

GAO officials advised that to date they have examined approximately 300 separate vouchers involving approximately 14 different bank accounts and 50 different suppliers and they cannot conclusively state that a single one of those transactions was either legitimate or fraudulent.

OTHER Congressional Executive Session

GAO officials advised that, as provided in testimony before the Committee on Foreign Affairs [redacted]

[redacted] GAO indicated that while they have not found anything indicating NHAO paid for the lethal items, they have not been able to verify that goods purchased were not diverted, bartered or exchanged for such items.

On July 21, 1986, officials of the OTHER Congressional Executive Session on Western Hemisphere Affairs advised that [redacted]

[redacted] Press reports were cited that suggested United States dollars had been converted to Honduran currency at rates that created more money for the Contras than was authorized by Congress, and Subcommittee officials advised that [redacted]

Subcommittee officials also advised that captioned funds may have been used in violation of United States narcotics laws and they suggested the Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control be contacted for additional details concerning this possibility.

On July 22, 1986, officials of the Office of the Inspector General (IG), Department of State, advised that the only investigation they have conducted concerning captioned matter involved a shipment of poor quality boots that was received by the Contra troops in March, 1986. The IG'S investigation resulted in the contractor that supplied the boots replacing those that were defective and an analysis of the contractor's books and records did not reveal any illegal activity.

[redacted] Branch Chief, Fraud Section, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice, has been advised of the investigation being conducted by the FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION on a daily basis and on July 23, 1986, she advised that [redacted]

[redacted] Staff Member, Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere Affairs, Committee on Foreign Affairs, House of Representatives, 709 House Annex One, Washington, D.C., 20515, [redacted] was advised that the official identity of interviewing agent and the purpose of the interview. [redacted] thereafter advised as follows:

b7c

The law Congress passed authorizing $27 million in humanitarian aid to the Contras in Nicaragua required the President of the United States to establish a system to prevent diversion of those funds and it was a normal request for the Foreign Affairs Committee to ask the General Accounting Office (GAO) to audit and evaluate the procedures that the President put in place.

OTHER Congressional Executive Session

When GAO asked the Department of State to furnish the bank records necessary for that audit, the Department of State declined, claiming that it had no responsibility to track the funds beyond their deposit into the bank accounts of the brokers that represented the alleged suppliers of merchandise purchased for the Contras in Nicaragua.

[redacted]

[redacted] advised that the United Nicaraguan Opposition (UNO) is an independent organization representing the Contras that was set up as a front so the Administration can claim the Contras are organized and have a responsible democratic leadership. It was simply an effort to clean up the image of the Contras. UNO is headed by three people: ADOLFO CALERO, ARTURO CRUZ, and ALFONSO ROBELO. CRUZ and CALERO supposedly live in Miami and ROBELO is believed to reside in [redacted]. They are the political front group for the FDN (Nicaraguan Democratic Force), which [redacted] is the organization actually doing the Contra fighting. [redacted] is UNO's representative in [redacted], and his local telephone number is [redacted]. [redacted] advised that none of these individuals are operating as agents of a foreign government but as agents of an irregular foreign army. [redacted] was not knowledgeable as to whether or not they would be subject to the laws of the United States.

b7C

[redacted] further advised that ARTURO CRUZ (telephone number (305) 361-2901 or (305) 361-1877) telephonically advised him a week or so ago that he wants to cooperate with the Subcommittee's investigation because UNO is innocent of any wrongdoing.

b6
b7C

[redacted] advised that the Subcommittee's analysis of the records subpoenaed indicated that it is not possible to trace the money to those who submitted invoices and there is a strong possibility the false invoices have been submitted to the United States Government. According to [redacted] where UNO got the invoices no one knows. Also, receipts for boots and other supplies were signed by the FDN commanders in the field, while there were numerous press reports indicating that the Contra commanders were complaining about non-receipt of goods that had been purchased for them.

b6
b7C

[redacted] also felt that there were possible banking law violations and stated that press reports have suggested that United States dollars were converted into Honduran currency at a rate that was more favorable to those making the conversion, thereby creating more money for the Contras than was authorized by Congress. [redacted] stated that the Department of State had changed their story about how currency was exchanged when they found out the way they had been doing it was illegal.

b6
b7C

[redacted] also indicated that GAO had found incidents where money was being paid directly to military commanders.

b6
b7C

[redacted] further stated that one of the bank accounts involved is owned by a Costa Rican - based seafood company that is alledged to be a front for a drug smuggling operation.

AX 46A-656

Continuation of FD-302 of [redacted], On 7/21/86, Page 3

FRIGORIFICOS de PUNTA RENAS is the name of the Costa Rican company involved and [redacted] indicated it is an account holder in a Miami bank. It's counterpart in the United States is a company called OCEAN HUNTER SEAFOOD, INCORPORATED, and the records analyzed so far indicate OCEAN HUNTER SEAFOOD, INCORPORATED made numerous deposits into the FRIGORIFICOS de PUNTA RENAS account. [redacted] is an authorized signer on the FRIGORIFICOS de PUNTA RENAS account and he is also [redacted] of OCEAN HUNTER SEAFOOD, INCORPORATED.

b7c

[redacted] indicated that there is some question as to where fact and fiction start and stop and he said there is a lot of movement of money between the United States and a company in the Cayman Island called BAC INTERNATIONAL. [redacted] understood that this company is simply a mail drop.

[redacted] indicated that the Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control has looked into the drug aspect of this program and that [redacted] is the [redacted] of that committee. Their information came from Senator CAREY's staff, which has done more investigation than anyone in Congress on the drug issue. [redacted] (CAREY's [redacted] is the person to contact for more information.)

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of transcription 7/30/86

Subsequent to being advised of the official identity of the interviewing agent and the purpose of the interview, a conference was held with the following officials of the National Security and International Affairs Division/Security and International Relations, General Accounting Office (GAO):

Group Director
Evaluator
Evaluator
Senior Attorney, Office of General Counsel

b6
b7C

According to the above officials, in October, 1985, Congressman MICHAEL BARNES, Chairman, Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere Affairs, requested their office audit the Department of States Management of the $27 million in humanitarian aid that Congress authorized in 1985.

GAO indicated that during their investigation it was determined that a separate organization within the Department of State, known as the Nicaraguan Humanitarian Assistance Office (NHAO), was established to administer this program and that NHAO is located in Rosslyn, Virginia. Additionally, an independent organization known as the United Nicaraguan Opposition (UNO), was established by the Contras so that the Department of State could deal with one organization rather than the various resistance forces that exist in the Nicaraguan region.

GAO advised that UNO determines the type and quantities of goods and services to be purchased for the Contras and then submits to NHAO invoices and receipts for those goods. NHAO reviews that documentation to insure that the items being purchased fall within the guidelines of the humanitarian aid program and then submits a voucher to the Department of Treasury for payment of those invoices.

GAO advised that they are satisfied with the procedures and controls that the Department of State had in place to monitor the purchases made in the United States; however, that is not the case with the purchases made in the Nicaraguan region. GAO indicated that they have audited approximately 300 vouchers relating to purchases made in the region and that they have not been able to validate that a single one those transactions was either a legitimate or a fraudulent transaction. GAO stated that approximately $26 million of the authorized amount has been spent to date and that the questionable purchases in the region account for approximately $14 million of that total.

GAO stated that their final report will not result in any allegations of fraudulent activities on the part of NHAO but will reflect that the Department of State did not have in place the mechanisms to accomplish what they were required to do by law. It was GAO's opinion that NHO had done the best they could but that they had been given an impossible task in that there was no way for them to set up operations within the region to assess the validity of the regional receipts, establish reasonableness of prices, or verify actual delivery and receipt of merchandise purchased.

Another problem is that payment for goods purchased in the region normally is not made directly to the supplier. Instead, payment is usually made to a Miami bank account of one of several brokers authorized by the regional suppliers to act as their agents. The funds become co-mingled in the broker's accounts and there is no way to trace to payments from the broker's accounts to the individuals suppliers. According to GAO, the records available did not approve anything either way and the scenario could run from all of the transactions being fraudulent to none of the transactions being fraudulent.

The NICARAGUAN HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE OFFICE (NHAO), files contained basically two types of files:

Payment Files, which contain the vouchers (Standard Form 1034) supporting purchases made for the Contras; and the Company Files, which contain receipts and invoices for goods purchased from each of the suppliers. GAO advised that in preparing their audit, they used the payment files rather than the company files because they contain all of the documents supporting the vouchers. GAO indicated that they analyzed 100 percent of the payment files.

GAO indicated that they made a trip to Miami in January, 1986, and interviewed two coordinators for the UNITED NICARAGUAN OPPOSITION (UNO), [redacted] and [redacted]. In connection with that transaction, [redacted] provided a copy of invoice #4070 from CREACIONES FANCY which he said replaced the pro forma invoice that originally been had provided for this transaction. [redacted] stated pro forma invoices were only used in the beginning by NHAO and that NHAO eventually returned all of the pro forma invoices back to the suppliers and asked they be replaced by invoices stating exactly what was purchased and received.

[redacted] stated if additional details were desired concerning the above desired transaction, Ambassador DEUMLING and [redacted] Attorney for the Latin American Bureau, DEPARTMENT OF STATE (DOS), would be the individuals to contact.

FARN:

KISAN:

[redacted] indicated that a review of all 380 NHAO payment files would reveal a few other signatures for these elements of UNO; however, the above mentioned individuals signed the greatest majority of the certifications.

[redacted] advised he was not surprised at the fraudulent documents being submitted by KISAN because they had admitted to stealing cattle to buy arms prior to NHAO being established. [redacted] felt KISAN probably used the money to buy arms from Costa Rican soldiers who had stolen them from the Costa Rican Army.

[redacted] indicated the NHAO grants that were made to FUNDACION were for the following four projects that FUNDACION is involved in:

1. They provide financial support for the Medical Corps of FDN. FUNDACION gets the money as an advance, and then they provide receipts for what the money was used for in order to clear the advance.
2. FUNDACION also operates a Hostel where patients undergoing reconstructive plastic surgery live when they get out of the hospital.
[redacted] indicated that [redacted] handles all of the costs involved in this program, and it is he that provides all of the receipts for funds expended.
3. FUNDACION, until recently, also operated a clinic in Costa Rica.
4. FUNDACION also used NHAO-provided funds to administer a Human Rights Program.

[redacted] indicated NHAO had requested affidavits from all of the suppliers as to the receipt of goods purchased with the Humanitarian Aid funds and, to date, they had received approximately 20 such affidavits.

Concerning the transactions wherein Cordobas were purchased, [redacted] advised there was very little backup for those transactions. [redacted] stated [redacted] or [redacted] would certify as to the receipt and the amount of [redacted] needed was based on an estimate of Troop

[REDACTED] is another
 DOS employee that is knowledgeable about this matter.

NHAO Officials advised that KISAN recently made full restitution in the amount of $25,870.18 for the November 26, 1985, payment that NHAO made to KISAN ostensibly for clothing, even though KISAN Officials [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] had admitted to spending only $15,000 of that amount for arms and ammunition. KISAN was unable to provide receipts for the $10,000 they claim was actually spent on uniforms; therefore, NHAO insisted on and received full restitution.

Concerning the [REDACTED] transaction, NHAO Officials advised that receiving report #0023 dated January 13, 1986, indicates that [REDACTED] delivered the uniforms to FARN on January 28, 1986; however, an August 20, 1986, letter from [REDACTED] to UNO indicated that the uniforms were delivered on January 25, January 28, February 8, and NHAO Officials provided the following translation of the [redacted] LETTER to FERNANDO CHAMORRO R. of UNO: "Dear Commander: By this means and in response to your request I am confirming in effect that a total of 2150 uniforms were delivered but only 2000 were charged for. This is based on the fact that our suppliers delivered an additional 150 uniforms free of charge.

I also confirm to you the cost breakdown of the uniforms:

Fabric	990.00	Colones (Costa Rican Currency)
Thread	32.50	Colones
Buttons	189.00	Colones
String	14.00	Colones
Netting	280.00	Colones
Others	2.50	Colones

Total	1508.00	Colones

The deliveries were made the January 25 and January 28, February 7, February 8, February 26, 1986.

Hoping I have answered your request, I remain truly yours. [redacted]

Concerning the Abastecedor El Puente transaction, NHAO Officials advised that the error appearing on the summary sheet for the week ending February 21, 1986, occurred as a result of NHAO'S decision to include payment to more than one supplier on one single voucher. To facilitate the explanation of this transaction, NHAL Officials provided copies of the November 5, 1985, voucher #LD14 in the amount of $16,763.50; the November 5, 1985, voucher #LD18 in the amount of $45,035.37; Weekly Summary Sheet for the Week Ending February 21, 1986; and Weekly Summary Sheet for the Week Ending March 21, 1986.

NHAO Officials pointed out that according to the two vouchers, ALMACEN UPALA sold $26,766.32 in food stuffs to UNO; Abastecedor El Puente sold $15,906.78 in food stuffs, sundries, and clothing to UNO; and FARMACIA UPALA sold $856.72 in pharmaceuticals to UNO. The Weekly Summary Sheet for the Week Ending February 21, 1986, however, erroneously indicated that Abastecedor El Puente, rather than ALMACEN UPALA, sold $26,766.32 in food stuffs to UNO. This summary sheet contained a second error in that it indicated that $15,907 in food stuffs was sold to UNO by FARMACIA UPALA, when in effect is was actually sold UNO by Albastecedor El Puente.

UNO Officials advised that the allegations contained in the TIM GOLDEN article in the MIAMI HERALD were based on the incorrect Weekly summary for the Week Ending February 21, 1986. NHAO Officials pointed out that both of these errors were corrected on the Weekly Summary for the Week Ending March 21, 1986. NHAO Officials further advised that these weekly summary reports are manually generated and the correction was made on the March 21, 1986, summary sheet long before TIM GOLDEN went to Costa Rica, thereby proving that NHAO was not trying to correct something after GOLDEN had exposed it.

the Department of Justice (DOJ) began a joint investigation into this matter which has, to date, identified over 200 potentially fraudulent transactions and over 60 individuals that have participated in the humanitarian aid program. Of these 60, the below listed persons are known to have submitted documents to NHAO that resulted in the disbursement of United States government funds.

DOJ requested SA [redacted] of the Alexandria Division and [redacted] of the DOJ travel to Miami as soon as possible to conduct appropriate interviews. FBIHQ has approved and Miami will be advised of travel dates upon determination of same.

COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS
WASHINGTON, DC 20510

URGENT

August 5, 1986

The Honorable Edwin Meese, III
The Attorney General
Washington, D.C. 20530

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

As you know, the Foreign Relations Committee has been looking into allegations that the US-supported forces opposing the Sandinista regime in Nicaragua are involved in narcotics trafficking as a means of financing their struggle. Members of the Committee are concerned about these allegations and the Committee has begun a full-scale investigation.

As a first step we are requesting all information in the files of the Justice Department concerning the individuals listed on the attached sheet. While we appreciate the difficulty in collecting this volume of information, it is imperative that these materials be made available to the Committee by August 22, 1986. Please provide the Committee with a written response to this request by the close of business August 8 listing any reason the Justice Department has for withholding any of the requested documents from the Committee.

We anticipate your full cooperation in providing this material.

Sincerely,

Richard G. Lugar
Chairman

Claiborne Pell

Enclosed for information of Alexandria are two copies of a letter dated 8/5/86 from Senator Claiborne Pell.

On 10/14/86, Mark Richard, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, Department of Justice (DOJ), chaired a meeting attended by the U.S. Attorney, Miami, and representatives from DOJ, FBI and DEA. The subject of the meeting was to discuss the response to the enclosed letter. At the conclusion of the meeting the FBI was tasked to conduct appropriate check of FBI records to determine if any information is available regarding individuals mentioned in enclosed communication. At this time, only FBIHQ indices are being reviewed for this purpose. The attached is being furnished to Alexandria for information purposes only.

[redacted] advised that invoices from the above mentioned suppliers were received from the FARN people early in the program. [redacted] stated that procedures were not fully established and people in the field had not been fully briefed on procedures that had been implemented. [redacted] advised that when they first started up they were overwhelmed with invoices from the UNITED NICARAGUAN OPPOSITION (UNO) to be paid. [redacted] stated that FARN was a small part of UNO that consisted mainly of fighters. They did not have any administrative officers to handle paperwork. [redacted] advised that when supplies were purchased for each unit a different person would be sent to pick up the goods. [redacted] stated that the presence and activities of the contras was a delicate situation as the Government of Costa Rica did not want them in the country. [redacted] advised that he did not know any of the people signing the invoices that were being received from the above mentioned suppliers so when [redacted] was in the office he asked him to sign the receiving report. [redacted] stated that [redacted] was connected with FARN and was a responsible member of UNO so he typed up the receiving reports for [redacted] to sign.
